Main Street Bids High, Board Delays

The City Directors, at their regular meeting last night, reviewed bids that had been received at 2:00 p.m. on relocation and rebuilding of utility lines along South Main Street. Only two bids were received. Benning Construction Company of Sheridan bid $183,463. Bill Lee of Texarkana bid $174,744.75. The bids were a lot higher than the engineer's estimate of the cost which was $120,000. The Board delayed awarding the bid to make a further study of the possibility of lowering the cost.

Not included in the bid was some large storm sewers extending from Main Street to the railroad tracks which were estimated to cost $57,000. The storm sewers had been removed from the contract because it was work that could be done by the street department at less cost than contracting the work. The Board plans a special meeting for further study of the bids.

An ordinance was passed adopting a revised zoning ordinance and regulation of subdivisions which had been completed by Urban Planning Associates of Little Rock working with the Hope Planning & Zoning Commission. The adoption of the overall plan had been postponed for 60 days while the City Directors made a thorough review of the proposals. Tom Hodges of Urban Planning Associates met with the City Directors and some minor changes were made in the original plan before it was adopted.

John Hawkins and Don Walker of John E. Hawkins & Associates Engineers met with the directors to discuss an engineering estimate they had made on necessary repairs to the runways at the airport. To remove some humps that have developed on the main runway would require about 35,000 yards of concrete, which together with the other work is estimated to cost $235,000. The Board of Directors asked the City Manager to continue negotiations with the Federal Aviation Agency for federal aid on the runway repairs. Engineers of the Agency will review the engineering proposal to determine whether there is a satisfactory alternate to replacing so much concrete. Hope is getting some private jet airplane traffic and the humps in the runway cause problems for these high speed airplanes.

The City Directors also had requested the engineering firm to make a study of Hope's sewer disposal plants. A preliminary study had been made of the plants during the past year to get a general idea of what would be necessary to increase the capacity of the plants. The City Directors authorized John E. Hawkins & Associates to begin detailed plans for enlarging the sewer disposal plants.

The City Directors reviewed a request from the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company to pay a part of the cost of relocating their lines along South Main Street. The Board took no action on the request but were unanimous in their opinion that the gas company should relocate their utilities to accommodate the necessary rebuilding of South Main Street. The highway department will soon be ready to begin work on this project and the relocation of water, sewer, gas, electric, and telephone lines will have to proceed along with the highway rebuilding job.

No True Bill in Shooting

Sheriff Arville Allen said the jury concluded there was insufficient evidence for a charge.

County Had 15 Wrecks, One Fatality

The Police Services Division in its monthly statistical review reported today that 46 persons died in traffic fatalities during the month of August. According to State Police figures, this is eight fewer deaths than were recorded over the same period a year ago.

Captain Milton Mosier, District Commander of the Hope District for the Police Services Division said that 6 persons died during the month of August on Arkansas highways in the Hope District. Counties in the district recording deaths were Miller with 3 deaths, Sevier 2, and Hempstead 1 death. Clark, Howard, LaFayette, Little River, Nevada, and Pike were free of traffic fatalities during the reporting period.

Mosier said troopers in the 9 county area investigated 82 accidents. Clark County experienced the highest accident rate during August recording 17 accidents, followed by Hempstead County with 15 accidents, Little River 11, Howard and Nevada 9 each, Miller 7, Sevier 6, Pike and LaFayette 3.

The report indicated that excessive speed was a contributing cause in accidents followed by following too close, failure to yield the right of way and inattention.

The 46 traffic deaths during August occurred in 33 fatal collisions. Statewide, troopers investigated 1,115 accidents during the month of August.

Mosier said all motorists should drive with care and be especially alert for school children.

Nursing Home Fire Leaves Six Dead

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A fire swept through a nursing home early today and officials reported six persons killed and 11 injured.

Police said 18 persons were in the Lil Haven nursing home when the blaze broke out on the second floor of the 2½-story brick and wood building. All but one of the 12 survivors was hospitalized.

Their conditions were not known.

The fire was put out in 30 minutes. City Fire Marshal Ben Andrus said an investigation of the cause would begin today.

"I went through yelling, 'Fire, fire,' but some of them wouldn't get out," said the nursing home manager, Monte Waldron.

The owner of the nursing home, Lillian Waldron, was visiting relatives in Chattanooga, Tenn., her husband said.

There Are Many Ways You Can Tell About a Person's Character

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions: You can tell a person's character by his taste in flowers. For example, if his favorite flower is the rose, he probably is stodgy, conventional, prosaic and hides his money in a mattress or a hole in the back yard. On the other hand, if his favorite flower is the dandelion, he probably is adventurous, romantic, imaginative, chivalrous and hasn't saved any money at all.

It's all in how you say a thing. Few men like to be praised for their prejudices, but all like to be admired for the strength of their convictions.

Science, which has plumbed many of the mysteries of bacteria and stellar space, still can't tell us why a woman stifled a yawn with the back of her hand, a man with his palm.

If I could do only one thing to improve the lot of mankind, what I'd like to be able to do most is to find a new pleasure that people over 40 could enjoy—and still not lose a good night's sleep.

U.S. Under Increased Pressure From Europe to Devalue the Dollar

Armyworms Damaging Local Lawns

Scattered rainfall in Southwest Arkansas has brought lush pastures to some areas while other spots are still extremely short of moisture.

In a series of special crop reports by Agricultural Extension Service agents in the area, the following observations were made:

Cattle were making good gains on lush pastures in Little River County. A few fields of sorghum were being combined. Standing water caused some yellowing of peanuts. White flies and loopers were damaging some cotton.

Fall armyworms were doing considerable damage on lawns and pastures in Hempstead County. There has been minimum damage to soybeans by corn earworms. Hay was in good condition with yield and quality also good.

Soybeans were rank in Miller County with bollworms and loopers present in heavy numbers. Bollworms were also prevalent in cotton.

A lack of rain was beginning to hurt soybeans in Lafayette County. Cotton was still fruiting good; it needs rain, too. It begins to wilt after mid-day.

Moisture was also needed in Pike County to hold soybean pods and to size the beans.

Rain was needed in Ouachita County but livestock were still in good condition.

LONDON (AP)—The United States was under increased pressure to devalue the dollar as 10 of the major industrial nations gathered today for monetary talks.

America's leading trading partners also were virtually certain to urge an early end of the 10 per cent import surcharge imposed by President Nixon as part of his new economic policy.

The Nixon administration has resisted pressure to devalue U.S. currency but sources said a compromise agreement between the United States and the "Group of 10" still was possible. Treasury Secretary John B. Connally is representing the United States at the two-day meeting.

Britain added its support Tuesday to a call by the six-nation European Common Market for devaluation of the dollar. The development also had the informal backing of Japan and Canada, sources said.

Briton Forgets About Ireland But Criticizes U.S. for Prison Riot

LONDON (AP)—"I am sickened by America," wrote a British newsman who visited New York's Attica prison after the riot that took the lives of 41 convicts and prison employees.

Newspapers throughout Europe published lengthy accounts of the bloody end to the jail-mutiny under headlines reflecting horror and dismay.

Several commentators blamed the rebellion on racial pressures inside the prison. One said the penal system "drove the inmates to their desperate uprising."

Another accused President Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of murder. And another called it the consequences of taking a soft line with criminals.

Ivor Key of the London Daily Express, the newsman who said America sickens him, reported from New York: "For the first time in four years of living and working here I am shocked to the point where I seriously question whether this is the country I want to raise my children in."

"True," Key added, "a nation's pulse cannot be taken from the thousand hardened criminals who took over the jail."

"But my fear is that the courts and politicians, mainly for their own ends, have become so liberal to the criminal that we are on the verge of

Busing Suit Filed at Jackson

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi's largest public school system has filed suit in District Court to stop state officials from withholding funds used to bus students to achieve racial balance.

The suit, which names state Auditor Hamp King and members of the state Tax Commission as defendants, asks for an injunction against the carrying out of a directive issued Saturday by Gov. John Bell Williams.

Jackson school officials said in the suit Tuesday that a court-ordered desegregation plan states "the school district will be required to provide transportation as a means of implementing this plan."

Williams cited a state law which prohibits busing of students inside a municipality.

School officials said part of the monies ordered stopped were used to pay teacher salaries and other school costs besides paying for busing.

Big Enemy Supply Base Uncovered

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnamese troops sweeping the Khe Sanh area near the Laotian border uncovered a major North Vietnamese supply base today and the biggest single cache of munitions in recent months, the South Vietnamese command reported.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien of the command said a patrol of Hac Bao, or Black Panther, troops found a complex of 20 structures that contained more than 400,000 rounds of ammunition, large amounts of wire and fuel and five tons of rice.

Hien said South Vietnamese rangers, also operating near Khe Sanh, found a smaller cache of North Vietnamese munitions. Together, the finds were the largest uncovered since 13,500 South Vietnamese troops launched a major operation Sept. 6 in the northwest corner of the country below the demilitarized zone.

Shootout Near Texarkana Kills Two

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—A feud between two Miller County families that officers said had smoldered for nearly a week erupted into a shootout Tuesday night. Two persons were killed, two were seriously wounded and five more were arrested.

The incident occurred at a general store in the Doddridge community, about 20 miles south of here.

Dead are Carl Reneau, 35, owner of the store, and Floyd Ward, 45, both of Doddridge. Hospitalized at Texarkana were Reneau's 31-year-old wife, Sharon, and Barbara Ward, 33, a sister-in-law of Floyd Ward. Five other persons, all members of the Ward family, were taken into custody by Miller County Sheriff Leslie Greer.

"There were no cut throats or any kind of mutilation," Edland said after examining eight bodies of hostages. "All eight cases died of gunshot wounds."

A ninth hostage killed during the assault had previously been established as a gunshot victim.

Oswald maintained that "there have been two misstatements of facts" concerning what happened to the hostages. He said the first was that all the hostages had cut throats and the second was that none

Autopsy Reports Eight Hostages Shot, Others Insist Throats Slashed

By BERNARD COHEN

Associated Press Writer

ATTICA, N.Y. (AP)—State Corrections Commissioner Russell G. Oswald has confirmed a medical examiner's finding that eight hostages who lost their lives during an inmate uprising at Attica State Prison died of gunshot wounds.

The autopsy reports contradicted earlier official reports that inmates had slit the throats of hostages as police began an assault on the rebel-held areas of the maximum-security facility Monday.

But Hollis Chase, president of a union local that represents correction officers at prison, insisted that the original story was correct and that the hostages' throats had been slit. He said officials had photographs showing the bodies with cut throats.

The rebellion, which started last Thursday, took 41 lives. Ten of the dead were prison employees and 31 were inmates.

In a statement to newsmen late Tuesday, Oswald said one question was how any of the hostages could have been killed by gunfire.

"The most important and obvious answer is the fact that the inmates had dressed all hostages in prison garb to insure difficulty of identification between inmate and hostage," he said.

"Additionally, hostages could very well have been used as shields or forced forward into gunfire."

He released a list of weapons found in the prison after the rebellious inmates were routed. The list included gasoline bombs, sharpened spears, metal pipes, straight razors and spiked baseball bats—but no guns.

He declined to answer questions from newsmen.

The commissioner's statement came several hours after disclosure by Dr. John F. Edland, Monroe County medical examiner, that the hostages all died of gunshot wounds and that none had had his throat slashed.

"There were no cut throats or any kind of mutilation," Edland said after examining eight bodies of hostages. "All eight cases died of gunshot wounds."

A ninth hostage killed during the assault had previously been established as a gunshot victim.

Oswald maintained that "there have been two misstatements of facts" concerning what happened to the hostages. He said the first was that all the hostages had cut throats and the second was that none

PanthersLead Marches for Inmates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Demonstrators in two cities have rallied in support of the inmates at New York's Attica State Prison as reaction continues to the bloody end of its prisoner rebellion.

About 150 persons paraded through the midday, 90-degree heat in Los Angeles Tuesday to show support for what they called the "Attica 1200" and to voice demands for nationwide prison reform.

In an orderly rally attended by many members of the Black Panthers and the Angela Davis Defense Committee, one speaker described the Attica inmates as "heroic brothers ... laying down their lives to human dignity."

At the University of Oklahoma in Norman about 75 black students blockaded a one-way street for about two hours to show sympathy. About 85 percent of the Attica inmates are black or Puerto Rican.

"There is one way ... the right way ... but it ain't the white way," the protesters chanted. They posted a sign reading: "30 brothers dead, and things go on as usual."

In Buffalo, N.Y., state Assemblyman Arthur O. Ewe wept as he told a State University audience that the inmates had refused to kill their hostages even when the police assault began.

"Those were nonviolent men in there," Ewe said. "When the attack began, they refused to plunge knives into their hostages. Even when the gas came, they refused to kill them. Even when the shooting began, they refused to kill them."

Eve, a black legislator who served on a mediating committee requested by the rebellious inmates, said he blamed Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the tragic outcome.

Rockefeller was supported by Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan of California who said in Sacramento that bargaining with convicts holding hostages would sentence "every prison employe and guard ... to the possibility of death."

Reagan compared the Attica riot with the bloody escape attempt Aug. 21 at San Quentin Prison in which three guards and three inmates died.

"In both instances it reflects the revolutionary tactic of taking the revolution into the prison and attacking the establishment there," he said. William L. Kunstler, the activist lawyer who also was among the Attica mediators, told a gathering at Stout State University in Menomonee, Wis., that the inmates "were real men who had legitimate grievances."

He said the riot was "the only way they had to bring their grievances to the attention of authorities." Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell told a Republican fund-raising dinner at Millburn, N.J., that the Attica rebellion and its bloody aftermath was a "most unfortunate situation," but he declined to make any more specific comment.

U. S. UNDER (From Page One)

ers attending today's meeting are seeking a way out of the global monetary and trade crisis triggered Aug. 15 when President Nixon imposed the import surcharge and cut the dollar's tie to gold.

The Common Market countries are committed to seeking both an end to the surcharge and a dollar devaluation as part of a general realignment of the world's leading currencies.

Washington alone in its approach to the crisis categorically opposes devaluing the dollar. Keystone of its economic recovery program is, instead, a demand that major foreign currencies revalue upwards.

One reason the United States wants a revaluation of other currencies is that imports from America's commercial rivals would become more costly. This would in time help America's balance of payments deficit and strengthen the dollar.

If this happened, other nations' trade balances would dwindle, and that would be deflationary for them as well as expensive politically at home. Some have expressed alarm at the size of revaluations Washington has suggested, well above the floating rates reached so far.

These nations see the surcharge in a similar light and contend they are under no obligation to help America out of a payments deficit which they feel is caused in large part by U.S. investments abroad and the Vietnam war.

Despite the opposing views financial experts believe there is room for compromise at the London meeting.

Two Soldiers Shot, Killed in Ireland

BEILFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Terrorists shot and killed two British soldiers and seriously wounded five others during the night in different parts of Northern Ireland.

At the same time, bombings and outbreaks of shooting at British army patrols and observation posts were reported in Belfast, Londonderry and Dungannon.

One civilian seen aiming a rifle at an army post in Londonderry was shot by troops. A military spokesman said the man fell and was dragged away by sympathizers from the Roman Catholic districts of Creggan and Bogside.

The two soldiers were killed in Belfast and the market town of Dungiven. The other soldiers were wounded in Londonderry. The deaths brought to 104 the number killed in two years in Northern Ireland. Twenty-two soldiers have been killed this year.

Security authorities exulted a Republican fund-raising dinner at Millburn, N.J., that the Attica rebellion and its bloody aftermath was a "most unfortunate situation," but he declined to make any more specific comment.

The IRA, seeking to force the British out of the northern province ruled by Protestants for the past century, had threatened to start an offensive last week.

It gave Prime Minister Brian Faulkner's government until midnight Sept. 8 to give up effective power—or face an upsurge in violence.

The deadline passed without any apparently concerted offensive by the gunmen.

Gerry Fitt, leader of Ulster's opposition Social and Democratic Labor party, meanwhile assailed the IRA's militant provisional wing as "madmen living in a world of hate and inhumanity."

Fitt, in a statement issued from the Dublin hospital where he is being treated for a slipped disc, condemned what he called the "brutal rejection" by the provisionals of a peace appeal by Roman Catholic Church leaders in the North.

"If I am to be true to my political principles then when I condemn the use of British bayonets in Northern Ireland I must also condemn the political use of an IRA bomb."

Greer said. He is being held in the Miller County Jail.

Greer said Floyd Ward, his sister-in-law and three nephews went to Reneau's store Tuesday night and Reneau told them to leave. It apparently was then that the shooting began, he said.

"When we arrived at the scene, Reneau's body was lying near the front of the store and Ward's body was lying beside his car," Greer said. "Mrs. Reneau was lying beside her husband's body and Mrs. Ward was inside the car. There were a lot of shotgun blasts that struck the front of the store and the car."

Greer said that two shotguns and a high-powered rifle were confiscated.

He said he anticipated the filing of charges today against "several" of those taken into custody Tuesday night.

Public Picks Up Tab for Officials

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — When the state's constitutional officers buy wedding gifts or flowers for friends or entertain out-of-town guests in their homes before Little Rock games of the Arkansas Razorbacks, they might write it off at state expense.

Such expenditures are mentioned among a broad range of items that six of the seven constitutional officers say they pay for with the "public relations" expense fund the legislature provides.

But the Arkansas taxpayer might pick up the tab for "complimentary" advertising in various publications for some officials, tickets to a festival or some other event or cocktails which one official privately said was sometimes served at get-togethers at state expense, the main expense items listed in recent interviews were travel and the state entertainment of dignitaries in the line of duty.

However, Atty. Gen. Ray H. Thornton Jr., who took office in January, says that most of his expenses so far have been incurred in his work on legislative reapportionment.

None said he considered the money to be a supplement to his constitutionally restricted salary, although there have been allegations that it is.

The six—Thornton, Secretary of State Kelly Bryant, Land Commissioner Sam Jones, Treasurer Nancy Hall, Auditor Jimmie "Red" Jones and Lt. Gov. Bob Riley—are authorized $6,000 each in each year of this biennium for "public relations."

This is in addition to salary, which is $6,000 for Thornton, $2,500 for Riley and $5,000 for each of the others. The seventh official, Gov. Dale Bumpers, has been allotted $9,500 a year under the heading of "travel expenses" and Bumpers says the money will be used for airplane travel. This is the first year the governor has received the allowance. His salary is $10,000 a year.

The legislature has regularly voted the "public relations" money to the other six on grounds that the poorly paid officials deserve an expense account to take care of the special demands made on them because of their positions.

"Goodness knows, you could give away all your salary," said Mrs. Hall.

The 1971 legislature increased the allowance from $4,500 annually to $6,000 and included $3,600 a year each for the president pro tempore of the Senate and the speaker of the House.

Normally during debate on the expense bill in the General Assembly, some legislator will say that the allowance actually is a salary supplement, circumventing the constitutional limitation on the officials' pay.

All six deny that, but Bryant said, "It helps you in your salary because the salary is so low. Well, let's be frank about it—you couldn't do all this on your salary because it's so low."

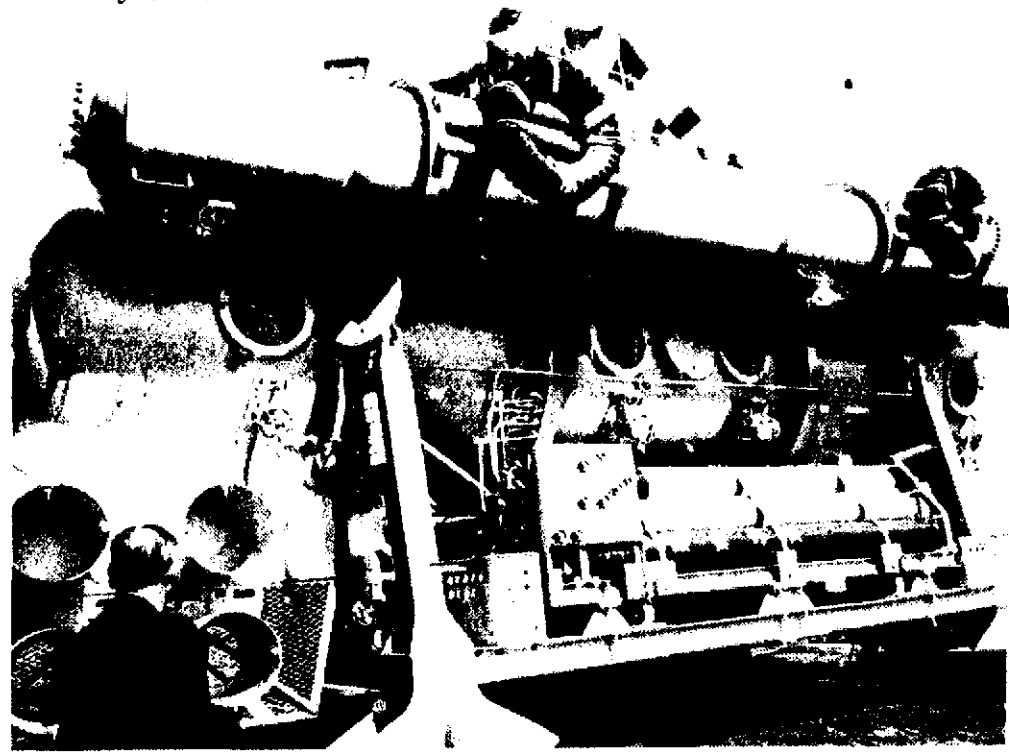

Some of the officials have outside sources of income and three of them have their wives on the state payroll.

Mrs. Jimmie "Red" Jones earns $12,576 a year as an "administrative assistant." Mrs. Bryant $10,610 as an "assistant chief deputy" and Mrs. Sam Jones $6,813 as a secretary.

In a Jan. 20, 1964 ruling, the state Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the "public relations" allowance, but ruled that the officers could be paid only for expenses actually incurred.

"In view of the expressed intent of the Legislature to provide these state officials with limited public relations expenditures, the officials are not entitled to reimbursement of expenditures not expended," the court said.

The officials are not required to itemize their expenses and have been drawing their full monthly allotment, now $500 a

Crucial Vote Thursday on Draft Bill

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a crucial vote on the draft-extension bill expected Thursday, Pentagon chiefs and senior Armed Services Committee members are trying to convince senators that continued lack of draft authority will create a military manpower crisis.

Sen. John Stennis, the committee chairman, told newsmen Tuesday he is worried about the outcome of a vote on a motion to table the bill to extend the draft two years.

"We have a rare combination of opponents," the Mississippi Democrat said after he and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, ranking Republican on the committee, met with top uniformed and civilian chiefs of the Army, Navy and Air Force. Opponents include not only Vietnam war critics but also advocates of a bigger military pay raise than the $2.4 billion included in the bill.

The measure is a compromise of separate bills passed earlier by the Senate and the House. The compromise version passed the House after a conference committee watered down an amendment in the original Senate bill calling for withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Vietnam within nine months after enactment. The House version instead urges President Nixon to set a pullout date.

Top Pentagon brass went to the Capitol to confer with Sens. Stennis and Smith after Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said if the draft is not renewed, the readiness of the armed forces will "decline to levels totally unacceptable ... to the American people."

Selective Service officials say about 500,000 men whose educational deferments ran out last June are draftable even without a new draft law. "There probably are enough men who have lost their deferments to sustain the draft for quite some time," one official said.

Antiwar senators have threatened to filibuster the bill. Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., is leading the fight against the pay provision on grounds it is unfair to men in the lowest grades. Allott wants $300 million more in pay increases and is expected to call for a vote Thursday to table the bill.

"You'd be amazed at how many things (expense items) are involved in this thing — wedding presents, flowers to people in hospitals, graduation gifts, that sort of thing, and they do mount up," Riley said.

Tito Has the Soviet Reds Worried

The man whose name is attached to the "doctrine of limited sovereignty" is embarking on a diplomatic pilgrimage which worries influential Communists outside the Soviet orbit.

Leonid I. Brezhnev, head of the Soviet Communist party, will meet in Belgrade soon with President Tito. One aim may be to apply to the maverick Yugoslav Communists the sort of pressure implied by the "Brezhnev doctrine" which insists that no Communist party can endanger the interests of the whole Communist community.

The idea that this may be on Brezhnev's mind since Moscow purports to command the whole Communist community—raises the possibility of another explosion on the horizon of international communism, perhaps not in the immediate future, but when Brezhnev is ready.

However, Communists in Europe and Japan read it, they have been moved to warn the Kremlin rather directly that the day of total Soviet domination over other parties should be regarded as over for good.

East Europeans may get the feeling that the specter of Nikita S. Khrushchev, guffawing mightily at Brezhnev's problems and phobias, will be haunting the Belgrade meeting.

Brezhnev is, in fact, trying to undo what was set in motion when Khrushchev reversed years of Stalin enmity for Tito's League of Communists and conceded that specific national conditions could influence development of a "Socialist" society. The reconciliation never was total, but from then on "national communism" had a better chance of survival.

Lately Brezhnev has taken a prominent part in shaping a Soviet policy aimed in Europe at countering what the Kremlin seems to regard as a Chinese threat of penetration. This Kremlin concern makes Yugoslavia, along with Romania, a prime target of Moscow policy.

Moscow suspects China of trying to link Yugoslavia and Romania to Albania in an anti-Soviet entente allied with Peking. That would give the small countries better leverage for resisting Soviet dictates.

Blast Wrecks Night Club in Saigon

SAIGON (IP) — An explosion wrecked the busy Tu Do night club tonight, and several persons were carried from the wreckage.

Apparently a large bomb had gone off.

The blast shook downtown Saigon and set fire to cars in Tu Do Street, a principal thoroughfare.

The explosion climaxed three days of fire-bomb attacks aimed at American military vehicles.

U.S. and South Vietnamese police sealed off the area.

The blast occurred one block from the Caravelle Hotel where Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota was staying.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Tuesday nights on the television networks promises to be a hotly contested battleground. NBC and CBS have moved some heavy entertainment artillery against ABC's most popular lineup of last season.

Will "Marcus Welby, M.D.," that gentle general practitioner, lose some of his faithful patients to "Cannon," CBS' tough private eye? And more to NBC's woman-oriented "Funny Side" with its light-hearted musical comedy look at everybody's basic problems?

Probably. And it is just as likely that NBC's top cop, "Ironside," will be more of a threat to the "Mod Squad" kids than any bad guys.

ABC's "Movie of the Week," once in charge of its time period, has acquired some formidable competition with the arrival on Tuesday nights of CBS' popular "Hawaii Five-O," and another action-adventure series, "Sarge," launched by NBC.

Among the new series, "Cannon" seems to be the greatest threat. It is a slick, fast-moving show reminiscent of those old Dashiell Hammett and Raymond Chandler books. William Conrad's character, Frank Cannon, is gravel voiced and gimlet-eyed and takes a lot of punishment. He is fat and 50. The premiere started with a robbery massacre and through about half the show, our hero was dragging around with a bullet through the knee, the hunter pursued by the hunted. It was a highly charged hour.

NBC, scheming to pull the early evening "Ironside" audience along to its new "Sarge" series, turned out what was billed as two shows but which played as one and combined the two leading characters. The plot unfortunately contained only about enough action to pull through one hour not two. The result was that neither series took off for a fast start on the new season.

George Kennedy, whose character was introduced in a two-hour pilot film last season, plays the clerical title role in "Sarge."

NBC's "Funny Side" had its official premiere Tuesday, following something billed as a preview last Sunday. This time the general subject was health, and it ranged in sketch form from treatments on health food and hypochondria to hospital food and braces on teeth. The five couples who participate seemed to have better comedy material and to handle it with greater ease. The hour still dealt largely in cliches, but some were buried under the players' enthusiasm.

Sir Galahad was kibitzing his father, Sir Lancelot, at the square table. Sir Tristram sitting North gave a limit jump raise and Lancelot was happy to go on to game.

Sir Gareth of Orkney sitting West opened the jack of hearts. Lancelot played dummy's queen and Sir Gawaine covered with the king.

"I wonder why finesse always work for you, Galahad, and never for me," complained the peerless knight.

"Maybe," said Sir Lancelot. "Fortunately, I need no finesse to make this contract."

Ferguson Is Player of Week

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles had warned Razorback fans not to expect miracles from quarterback Joe Ferguson.

Late Saturday night, in the Arkansas dressing room, Broyles admitted that Ferguson had indeed worked a few miracles.

Ferguson, a whip-arm junior starting his first college varsity game, completed 16 of 27 passes for 228 yards and two touchdowns and scored once as the Razorbacks blasted California 51-20.

For his performance, Ferguson was named Offensive Player of the Week in the Southwest Conference by The Associated Press.

Rice's Rodrigo Barnes was named Defensive Player of the Week for his job in the Owls' 23-21 loss to Houston.

"To go out and start your first ball game and be named is a tribute to the whole team," Ferguson said. "I was really nervous. After we fumbled the ball at first it really scared me. Then after we got into the game and settled down it was all right."

The Razorbacks demoralized the Bears late in the second quarter, scoring 10 points in the final 17 seconds of the half to gain a 17-13 advantage. Ferguson completed 6 of 8 passes for 63 yards in the 67-yard TD drive. The final five yards came on a lob from Ferguson to Mark Hollingsworth who had slipped behind the bunched-up California defenders. Seconds later, Bill McClard booted a 52-yard field goal.

"When we went to our two-minute offense it gave us enthusiasm and we knew we could do it after we scored those 10 quick points," Ferguson said.

"Joe certainly lived up to all the expectations and proved he could make the big play in critical situations," Broyles said. "He added a new threat to his potential by his successful operation of the veer offense."

"We have great confidence in Ferguson and we know what he can do," Broyles said. "We just don't want people to expect miracles, even though he performed several Saturday night."

Ferguson's two-yard touchdown run was the first of his college career and only his third since junior high school.

"It was an option play and I just went down the line," Ferguson said. "Fullback Skipper DeBorde put me in with a great block."

Ferguson threw deep four times against California and three times he was on target. One went to Jim Hodge for a 47-yard touchdown; another was flicked away at the last instant by Clarence Duren and a third was mishandled by Mike Reppond.

"I was really impressed with Ferguson," Duren said. "He has such a quick release. You can't turn your back on him for a second, or he'll throw the ball right past you before you know it."

Coach Fears Hogs Will Be Complacent

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Tuesday he was concerned about the possibility of the Razorbacks getting complacent with last week's 51-20 victory over California.

"Our concern is not allowing ourselves to think that last week's victory was indicative of the difference in the two teams," said Broyles.

Broyles said the Porkers worked Tuesday on defending the multiple offensive formations of Oklahoma State. Arkansas plays OSU Saturday in Little Rock's War Memorial Stadium.

"They've got two quarterbacks who can throw and run," Broyles said. "Where California used one basic offense, Oklahoma State uses about 20. We've got to be alert. That's what we've been working on—alertness."

He said the defense had not mastered OSU's offensive formations, but he was confident they would.

Captains named Tuesday for Saturday's game were defensive end Ronnie Jones and offensive tackle Tom Mabry.

Colorado's Davis Gets Back Nod

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)

Charlie Davis says he's kind of surprised running was so easy against Louisiana State Saturday night.

There's plenty of reason for surprise. The swift tailback romped for 174 yards in 20 carries and scored two touchdowns in Colorado's 31-21 upset of the Tigers at Baton Rouge, La.

That performance—against the nation's top team in rushing defense the past two seasons, a team which allowed just 52.2 yards per game rushing in 1970—earned Davis The Associated Press College Back of the Week honors for the first week-end of the season.

While the 5-foot-11, 198-pound sophomore from West Columbia, Tex., was personally stinging the Tigers, the Buffaloes as a team ground out 293 yards rushing.

"I was kind of surprised how well it went," Davis said. "But we were really well prepared for the game, and put a lot of study into it. I think that's the main reason for our success, that we came ready to play."

"The whole offensive line blocked extremely well. It seemed like every hole we went to was open."

Davis scored his first touchdown on a three-yard smash up the middle. "That showed his physical power," said Coach Eddie Crowder.

The other score came on a 47-yard scamper which displayed his 9.8 speed and sealed LSU's doom with 11:22 remaining. He did not carry the ball the rest of the game.

"Charlie has a great amount of maturity," said Crowder, "and he probably has more moves and agility than any other back I've had at Colorado in nine years."

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PITCHING—Marty Montgomery, Royals, hurled six scoreless innings of relief in his major league debut, gaining the victory as Kansas City blanked Oakland 2-0, preventing the A's from clinching the American League Western Division title.

BATTING—Hank Aaron, Braves, blasted his 42nd and 43rd home runs of the year, driving in five runs as Atlanta beat the Cincinnati Reds 5-2 and moving into fourth place on the all-time RBI list with 1,953, one behind Ty Cobb.

NEW YORK (AP) — As usual, Notre Dame is concerned with Who's No. 1? But right now, as the Fighting Irish prepare to open their season Saturday against Northwestern, it's not No. 1 in the country but No. 1 at quarterback.

The answer probably won't be known until Friday. Senior Bill Etter, junior Pat Steenberge and sophomore Cliff Brown shared the position in last weekend's scrimmage. The reason for the decision delay is that Etter has a hip pointer and Steenberge a hamstring pull.

Whoever wins out will be expected to lead the Irish to a national championship. Anything else doesn't make the Notre Dame faithful very happy, since they don't belong to a conference and don't have a league title to battle for.

The unnamed quarterback will be joined by most of the starters from last year's 10-1 squad which ended Texas' 30-game winning streak in the Cotton Bowl and finished second in the national rankings. The Irish are still second, although they led the preseason poll only to be passed by Nebraska, which opened impressively last weekend.

They shouldn't drop any lower, even though Northwestern outplayed Michigan during the first half of its early opener but came away a 21-6 loser. Only one Northwestern coach has had Notre Dame's number, beating the Irish four in a row from 1959-62. His name was Ara Parseghian and he now coaches at ... NOTRE DAME.

Texas at UCLA-IF UCLA was looking past Pitt a week ago, the object of their attention was Texas. The Longhorns pulled out last year's thriller 20-17 on a miraculous 45-yard pass with 12 seconds left. What can they do for an encore? How about an easier win? TEXAS.

Oklahoma State at Arkansas—Watch out for the Cowboys' great soph next year. Watch out for the Razorbacks this Saturday. ARKANSAS.

Southern Methodist at Oklahoma—Can super athlete Gary Hammond, now a quarterback after two years as a receiver and running back, outshine the Sooners: all veteran backfield? Unh-unh. OKLAHOMA.

Alex Karras Lashes Lion Management

By ALEX SACHARE

Associated Press Sports Writer

Outspoken Alex Karras, who harassed opposing National Football League quarterbacks and running backs as a defensive tackle with the Detroit Lions since 1958, lashed out at the Detroit management Tuesday after the Lions placed him on waivers.

Karras was the most familiar name on the waiver lists as NFL teams trimmed their rosters to the 40-man maximum decreed by the league.

He was promptly claimed by George Allen of the Washington Redskins. Karras said he would let Allen know whether or not he would report to Washington today.

"I cannot believe that the Lions' decision to place me on waivers is based on a fair assessment of my performance on the field," the 36-year-old Karras contended. "There are other factors involved."

"Perhaps there is no room in the world of sports these days for an athlete who has an opinion on anything except his own sport," Karras said, before being claimed by Washington.

"I have opinions. I think I am entitled to the same considerations as other human beings. That includes having the right to express myself on something other than playing defensive tackle," the 6-foot-2, 250-pounder declared.

Karras, suspended for the 1963 season by Commissioner Pete Rozelle for allegedly betting on football games, was out for much of last year with a knee injury, but says he is now 100 per cent.

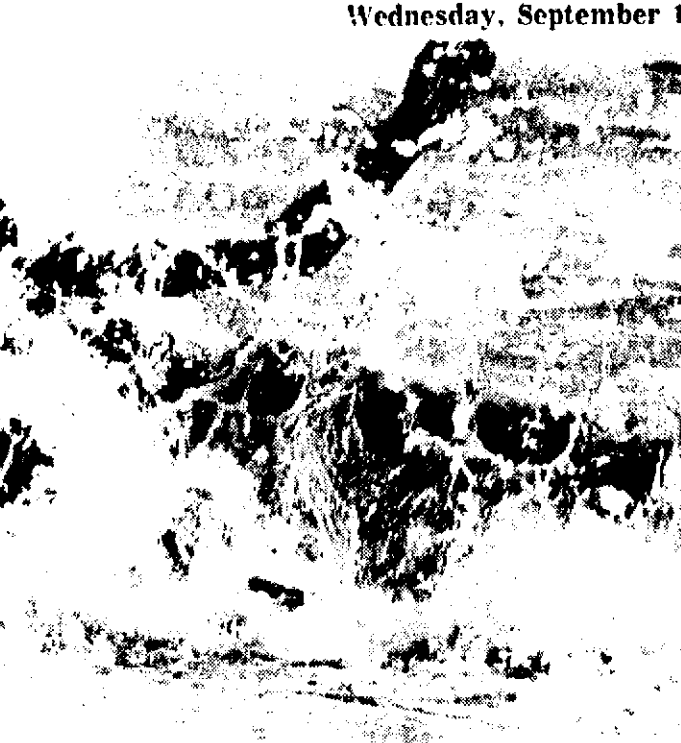

He is the latest in a long line of veterans obtained by Allen in his efforts to bolster the Redskins.

Another familiar name on the waiver lists was Tom Dempsey, the New Orleans Saints place kicker who booted the longest field goal in NFL history last season, a 63-yarder to defeat the Detroit Lions on the final play of the game.

Dempsey, born without a right hand and with only half a left foot, said he would try to catch on with another NFL club.

"Sure, I'm discouraged and I'm hurt," he declared. "But I've been down before ... and I've gotten back up. I know I can kick in this league and I'm going to."

Coach Has Praise for Indians

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)

Arkansas State offensive Coach Sam Weir praised the Indians' passing game Tuesday as the Tribe continued to prepare for the season opener Saturday against Wichita State.

"Our passing game is beginning to get sharp," Weir said. "The quarterbacks are getting stronger and we're getting good efforts out of our receivers."

Weir said that veterans Tommy Johnson and Steve Lockhart had looked sharp during drills this week. He also had kind words for youngsters Kearney Blalack and Steve Burks.

"Burks is the most improved receiver in camp this week," Weir said. "He's beginning to learn to use his great size and speed. Overall we've been very pleased with him this week."

Oakland Can Clinch West Division

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Oakland A's, playing it cool, can clinch the American League's West Division pennant tonight in owner Charles O. Finley's backyard—Chicago.

The A's had a chance to wrap it all up Tuesday night in Kansas City but the Royals used six innings of shutout relief pitching by rookie Monty Montgomery to delay the clinching, 2-0.

There was no evidence of champagne or other celebration paraphernalia in the A's dressing room. Apparently, Finley had decided Kansas City would be no place to celebrate a title for his A's, who fled that town for Oakland in 1968.

The A's play a two-night doubleheader against Chicago tonight and a sweep or a split combined with a KC loss against California would clinch the crown for Finley, whose insurance company is headquartered in Chicago.

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday night, New York rapped Boston 6-3, Detroit belted Baltimore 6-1, Milwaukee trimmed Chicago 5-4, and Cleveland topped Washington, 3-1 in the first game of a doubleheader. The second game was suspended after 16 innings by a local curfew, tied at 5-5.

Montgomery, making his major league debut, relieved Kansas City starter Paul Splittorff in the fourth inning after Splittorff was struck on the right kneecap by a line drive. The youngster, who had spent this season with Elmira in the Eastern League, permitted the A's just four hits and earned the victory.

Diego Segui, 9-7, was locked in a scoreless duel with young Montgomery until the seventh when Amos Otis led off with a single for KC.

Otis stole second—his 50th stolen base of the season, tops in the American League—and went to third when catcher Dave Duncan threw the ball into center field for an error. Then Joe Keough singled off first baseman Mike Epstein's glove, scoring Otis.

An inning later, the A's had another run when Bobby Knoop singled, moved up on Montgomery's sacrifice and scored on Freddie Patek's triple.

That was enough to beat the A's and delay the celebration they weren't really planning to have in Kansas City anyway.

It was a bad night all around for the A's. Their ace left-hander Vida Blue, is now baseball's second winningest pitcher after Detroit's Mickey Lolich earned his 24th victory with a six-hitter against Baltimore.

Lolich turned in his 25th complete game of the season and increased his innings pitched total to a whopping 342—highest total in the majors since Robin Roberts pitched 347 innings in 1953.

The stylish left-hander got home run help from Bill Freehan and Mickey Stanley. Aurelio Rodriguez and Gates Brown contributed three hits apiece for the Tigers, who beat Jim Palmer, 18-8.

The Yankees crept to within one game of third place Boston in the AL East, beating the Red Sox behind Mel Stottlemyre.

Stottlemyre, who hurled a seven hitter, contributed an RBI-single to a five-run sixth inning that put New York in command. Thurman Munson drew two walks in the big inning, scoring one run and forcing in another.

Felipe Alou drove in two runs for the Yanks with a single and a double.

Dave May cracked a three-run homer and doubled home the winner as Milwaukee shaded Chicago. Darrell Porter also homered for the Brewers, who roared from behind after the White Sox jumped off to a 4-0 lead against winner Bill Parsons, 13-15.

Parsons walked to open the seventh inning and moved up on a sacrifice before May's ground rule double delivered the deciding run.

Vince Colbert fired a four-hitter as Cleveland took the first game of its doubleheader against Washington. The game was played in one hour, 54 minutes—fastest game this season for the Indians.

The nightcap was just the opposite, lasting five hours—longest this season for Cleveland—before being ended by a curfew after 16 innings. Dick Billings drove in three runs for the Senators including two in the ninth as Washington rallied to tie it. Craig Nettles had four RBIs for the Indians.

The game will be completed at Washington later this month.

Rest of Loop to Decide the Winner

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
... And then there was one.

One game separates them—and from now on, it'll be up to the rest of the National League West to decide whether the Los Angeles Dodgers or San Francisco Giants wear the crown.

Or maybe they'll still have to work it out themselves. They've had to do it before—twice in 20 years—and in each case the Giants have come out on top.

But when these two teams collide, it's not just another game.

"It was like a World Series game," Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston said after his scrambling, clawing Dodgers won their eighth in a row and 13th in 15 games, stunning the Giants 6-5 on Manny Mota's three-run pinch double in the top of the ninth inning.

It was also their eighth straight triumph this year over San Francisco and gave the hard-charging Dodgers the season series 12-6 against the Giants, who less than two weeks ago commanded what seemed to be an all-but-invincible 8½-game margin before losing nine of 10.

"I wasn't discouraged," said the unemotional Alston, referring to the ninth inning, when the Dodgers came up trailing 5-3. "I've been around long enough to know you can't give up too soon."

The Dodgers didn't. They loaded the bases with nobody out on singles by Duke Sims, pinch-hitter Bull Sudakis and Maury Wills, setting up Mota's liner that sailed just inches over third baseman Alan Gallagher's glove, sending all three runners scurrying across the plate.

The two-bagger obliterated the San Francisco lead built on Bobby Bonds' second home run of the game, a three-run blast in the seventh inning coming only minutes after Chris Speier had hit a solo shot which started the rally.

In other National League games, Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs 4-3 to open a 7½-game East lead over St. Louis, which lost 5-4 to Philadelphia. Atlanta rode Hank Aaron's two home runs to a 5-2 victory over Cincinnati, Montreal split a doubleheader with the New York Mets, winning the opener 12-1 before losing 6-3, and San Diego topped Houston 5-2.

"We threw everything we had at them," a downcast Giants Manager Charlie Fox muttered. "We got five runs—you'd think we could get three out in the ninth." They got them—one double and three runs too late.

"Six inches lower and we might have had a triple play," he said of Mota's liner. Then, his gaze turning to a defiant glare, he added: "We're still one game ahead with 14 left to play. We're not going to pack up and quit!"

"Now we can start worrying about the Cards," Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtagh said after his Bucs beat the Cubs on Richie Hebner's triple and a passed ball in the sixth inning, tagging 21-game winner Ferguson Jenkins with his 13th loss.

"We've got five big games tormented UCLA so much that one Los Angeles writer referred to him as an "all-universe linebacker."

His second fumble recovery came at the UCLA 40 with Pitt trailing 25-22 in the fourth quarter. Cindrich and two other Panthers swarmed over quarterback Clay Gallagher and Cindrich recovered the ensuing fumble. Seven plays later Pitt scored the winning touchdown.

Coach Carl DePasqua doesn't usually go overboard with flowery phrases but Cindrich brings out the adjectives.

"I've been coaching in major college football for 19 years and I've seen many top athletes," says DePasqua. "But in all my years of coaching I've never used the term 'great' in defining any of them. However, with Ralph Cindrich I have no reservations whatsoever in using the term 'great.'"

Those who challenged Cindrich for Lineman of the Week honors were defensive end Rob in Parkhouse of Alabama, defensive tackle Phil Basler of Kansas, linebackers Mike Mullen of Tulane, and Ed Stetz of Wake Forest, guard Tom Parkhouse of Memphis State and split end Mike Siani of Villanova.

against St. Louis in the next eight," Murtagh said. "and that's the way it should be—the two contenders going against each other."

Rick Wise of the Phils helped win his own game at the plate, driving in two runs with a single in the five-run second inning that flipped the Cards. Aaron's five runs batted in with his 42nd and 43rd homers of the season moved him past Stan Musial into fourth place on the all-time RBI list with 1,963, just one behind the late Ty Cobb.

He hit a three-run job in the first inning following singles by Felix Millan and Ralph Garr, then unloaded in the fifth after winning pitcher Ron Reed bunted his way on base. It was the 53rd time Aaron has hit two or more homers in a game and gave him 635 career round trippers.

Ron Fairly drove in five runs for the Expos in their opening game romp by Wayne Garrett and Ed Kranepool countered with homers in the nightcap for the Mets. Rusty Staub had one in each game for Montreal.

Ed Acosta tamed the Astros on five hits and got all the runs he needed when the Padres struck for five in the first inning.

Ashe Upset by Czech Player

By KAROL STONGER
Associated Press Sports Writer
FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)

— Jan Kodes, the clay court sharpshooter, zeroed in on a big gun of grass, Arthur Ashe, killing the hopes of an all American U.S. Open title match today.

Kodes, the 25-year-old Czechoslovakian darkhorse of this $160,000 classic, upset the third-seeded player from Richmond, Va., 7-6, 3-6, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4 in a light drizzle Tuesday for the right to meet Stan Smith in the rain-delayed finale today.

Ashe's bid for his second Open title—he also won in 1968—went down the drain when referee Vic Seixas declined to suspend the match, already delayed by three days of downpours, because of a mist that marred Ashe's spectacles.

"If I wear glasses, that's just my bad luck," said the disappointed Ashe, nervously fidgeting a wristwatch he had received after his defeat.

Smith, the 6-foot-4 Army private stationed at Ft. McNair, Va., who is seeded No. 2, moved into today's wind-up with a 7-6, 6-3, 3-6, 2-6, 6-3 triumph over fourth-seeded Tom Okker of The Netherlands.

Okker found a safety pin to keep from losing his pants but just couldn't find the speed on soggy West Side Tennis Club grounds to save the match.

"I have to get in fast behind my first serve and I just couldn't move," lamented the 5-foot-8 contract pro who had never lost to Smith before.

"Basically I'm not too good on wet grass," said Smith, the 6-foot-4 U.S. Davis Cup star, "but I got good footing on the first couple of hits so I didn't have much trouble."

And, if Kodes' predictions are right, Smith should have even less difficulty today.

"Smith is in very good shape right now," said the blond-haired, blue-eyed first-round conqueror of top-seeded John Newcombe who has never beaten Smith on grass. "He really has so big a serve. I'll just try to hit it hard."

BEAUMONT (AP)—Ron Lauterbach, a sophomore quarterback at Abilene Christian, has been named Southland Conference offensive player of the week.

Lauterbach completed 10 of 13 passes for 214 yards and three touchdowns in ACC's 53-20 victory over McMurry last Saturday.

Defensive end Chip Marcum of the Wildcats was named defensive player of the week. Marcum had 11 tackles and three fumble recoveries.

Hanging Out Wash in Pro Football

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the pro football wash:

There's not much humor on the National Football League fields—but take those behemoths off the gridiron and put them in front of a microphone and you can come up with some pretty funny moments.

Like at the Minnesota Vikings' recent luncheon for about 1,000 of their fans, when quarterback Gary Cuozzo carefully analyzed his key block on a Denver player during a touchdown run by the Vikes' Bob Grim: "The guy was running so fast I couldn't get out of his way."

Or offensive tackle Ron Yary's clinical description of his method of pass-blocking: "I've developed a technique where I fall in front of a guy."

If you ask Sonny Jurgensen

what he thinks of the Orange Bowl, he prepared to duck.

Washington's sidelined quarterback has less-than-fond memories of the Miami Dolphins' home stadium. It was there that the key to the Redskins' attack broke his shoulder a few weeks ago, trying to tackle a Miami player who had intercepted a pass.

It was Sonny's second visit to the Orange Bowl. The last time, nine years ago in the Playoff Bowl, he was quarterbacking Philadelphia against Detroit, had a pass intercepted, tried for the tackle—and wound up with a shoulder separation.

Speaking of the Dolphins, Garo Yepremian does half his kicking at their home during the season and much of the rest of it is also done in relatively ideal conditions.

But Miami Coach Don Shula insists on preparing for any eventually—so once a week he sends Yepremian to a corner of the team's well-manicured training field, a spot with unclipped grass, sand and, on occasion mud.

There, Garo practices his specialty. "Between the artificial turf in the Orange Bowl and the perfect grass in camp, we'd be in tough shape if Garo had to kick somewhere in the mud on a bad surface with a lot depending on his kick," Shula explains. "So we give him a taste of the 'rough' once a week."

Some people complain that the presence of professional sports can wreak havoc on high school and college athletics—so the San Diego Chargers have taken a step in the other direction.

They recently held a night workout at San Diego Stadium, inviting fans to attend for a $1 contribution, which would go to the city's high school athletics program.

The 10,820 spectators, plus other donations mailed to the club—enriched the program's coffers by $17,237.

Pitt Player Lineman of Week

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Until this year opening games haven't exactly been the kind of things Ralph Cindrich would consider among his most unforgettable football experiences.

But it all changed around Saturday night for the University of Pittsburgh linebacker. He was credited with eight tackles and four assists and recovered two fumbles, both of which were turned into touchdowns, including the game-winner in the final period, as the Panthers defeated UCLA 29-25. For that performance, Cindrich, a 6-foot-1, 228-pound senior from Avella, Pa., was named by The Associated Press as the first national Lineman of the Week for 1971.

As a sophomore in 1968, Cindrich made 17 tackles in Pitt's opener against UCLA—the Panthers had dropped five consecutive opening games to the Bruins before Saturday night—but injured a knee, underwent surgery and missed the rest of the season.

In 1969, he made 13 stops, tops by a Pitt defender, but they couldn't erase the sting of a 42-8 loss.

Last year, on Pitt's first defensive play of the season, Cindrich tried to change direction while pursuing a ball-carrier, planted his knee—the other knee—and wound up on the sidelines again. He tried to come back three games later and played the first half against Navy—he was named to the "Midweek" all-opponent team—but the newly troublesome knee gave way and another operation was necessary.

Back for another season—he received an extra year as a result of the 1968 injury—Cindrich

Make Exterior Repairs--NOW

By MR. FIX

Time is limited for exterior repairs as winter approaches. A fall task for every homeowner is a complete inspection of the outside of his house. Repairs not made now may have to wait until spring and damage may be more extensive by then. Preventive maintenance is the thing to do if you wish to have a carefree winter.

The roof will take a great deal of abuse during the winter. Look for shingles that are cracked or curling. Missing ones will have to be replaced. Examine the flashing around chimneys and dormers. A coat of roof coating will preserve a piece of flashing that looks as though it may be starting to wear.

Gutters should be kept clean of leaves and other debris. If allowed to remain dirty and clogged when the first snow comes they will fill up and ice will jam them, causing sagging and overflow of water down the siding and even inside the walls.

While checking gutters and downspouts look for sagging and rusting. Do not use patches of unlike metals. Fiberglass can be used on any gutter and plenty of roof coating over, under and around the patch will keep it weather tight.

If you have had an ice build-up problem on your roof and in your gutters, consider installing heating cable. This is an insulated electric wire that builds up a small amount of heat when connected, enough to keep ice from forming in gutters. The cable can be laid along the lower edge of the roof in a pattern like an extended W or it can be laid in the gutter. Putting it on the roof requires more cable but is the preferred method.

Concrete and masonry are weatherproof—until cracks develop. Then moisture gets in, freezes and thaws and contracts and expands and before winter is over small cracks are big and the concrete is crumbling.

Clean out cracks with a sharp tool and wire brush away all fragments. Undercut the opening so that it is narrower at the top. This will keep the patch from pulling out. Wet thoroughly and fill with fresh material and smooth. Use a ready mix patch to which you add water, adding only what you need immediately.

Take a caulking gun with you and check joints around door and window frames, inside corners between two walls, siding right above the foundation. Scrape out all fragments of old caulking that is going bad before applying new. Don't forget to caulk around pipes that come through the wall.

Around the yard check for sagging fence posts, rotted tree limbs. Put away lawn furniture and put it away clean. Wrap lower trunks of young trees to keep small animals from nibbling off the bark. Support young trees with wire and stakes, passing the wire through a small piece of hose where it goes around the tree.

LOVE RANKS FOURTH
DALLAS (AP) — Love Field has become the nation's fourth busiest airport, outranked only by O'Hare in Chicago, Los Angeles International and Atlanta, according to the Federal Aviation Administration.

Love Field handled 407,622 regular air carrier and general aviation operations during 1970, said Howard Megredy, aviation director for the city.

This means its volume is now larger than that of John F. Kennedy in New York, San Francisco International or Miami.

TURN THE TABLES

Dear Helen: I love my daughter and son-in-law, but I've had it. Every Friday, they show up with their three children and their dog. They don't do one thing in the house, but leave the kids here while they visit friends.

I even mend and sew for them, and they eat like it was going out of style, with me doing all the cooking.

His folks live only about 10 miles from us, but they never go there except for afternoon visits. They don't like to stay at home (about 100 miles from here) because their friends are in our town.

I don't want to be mean or cause a fuss, but how can I get them to realize we're not a boarding house?—MOM

Dear Mom: Announce next week that you are coming to visit THEM—and do it! Have yourself a real restful weekend, and tell her you plan to do it very often.

So long as you let people tramp on you, they will. You've spoiled your daughter long enough!—H.

Dear Helen: I am going to Mexico this fall and have a problem. In years past, I've had nervous break-will spend the remainder of his leave, visiting Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Ingram and other relatives. They will go from Detroit to North Carolina where they will embark to the Panama Canal for a three year tour of duty.

Questions, Answers About SS

If you have any questions regarding social security, send them to the Social Security Office, Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas 75501 Attention: Glenda Rozenman

Q. My son, who is only 15 years old got a job working during the summer months. Social Security Taxes are withheld for his wages. How can he possibly benefit from Social Security?

A. Your son is building up work credits that could benefit him should he become disabled later.

Q. My wife works and pays Social Security Taxes. How will this benefit my two children?

A. If your wife should die before the children reach age 18, they could draw survivors benefits based on her employment and if they are attending school full-time between age 18 to 22, they could draw students benefits.

Q. My children will be grown and married by the time I retire. How can they benefit from my work coverage?

A. Should you become disabled, they could draw children's benefits before age 18, student benefits age 18 to 22, or in case of your death they could draw survivor's benefits.

Q. A young man writes: I am 23 years old. I recently had an automobile accident and suffered serious injuries. The doctor says it will be at least 1 1/2 years before I can work again. Please tell me the requirements for monthly social security disability benefits.

A. There are two requirements that you must meet to be eligible for monthly social security disability benefits. First, you must have worked at employment covered under the Social Security law at least 1 1/2 years during the three year period that ended when your disability began. The second requirement is based on medical evidence. The evidence must show you will be unable to work for at least 12 months or more.

Q. A young woman writes: A group of young persons where I work were discussing the requirements for social security benefits recently. Is it true that young persons who become disabled before age 31 do not have to meet the regular work requirement (5 of the last 10 years of work under Social Security) to qualify for monthly disability social security benefits?

A. Yes, it is true. A person who becomes disabled before he reaches age 24 meets the work requirement for monthly disability social security benefits if he has worked at employment covered under the Social Security law at least 1 1/2 years during the 3 year period that ended when his disability began.

A person who becomes disabled from the time he reaches age 24 through age 30 meets the work requirement for monthly disability social security benefits if he has worked at employment covered under the Social Security law only 1/2 of the time during the period that ended when his disability began.

I'm only going to prick you." The executioner drew blood and then fell on top of him to hide him from other convicts. "This wonderful Puerto Rican saved my life," said Helen, but he mourned other hostages who were killed. "The others didn't have help and they're lying dead."

Acts of Mercy Spared Three Hostages

ATTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Acts of mercy spared at least three hostages during the violence Monday at Attica Prison.

"The man behind me was an inmate I had known for some time," said guard Richard Fargo, who was a hostage for 98 hours.

He was recalling the moment Monday morning when leaders of the rebelling prisoners ordered the slaying of hostages before state troopers, prison guards and sheriff's deputies closed in.

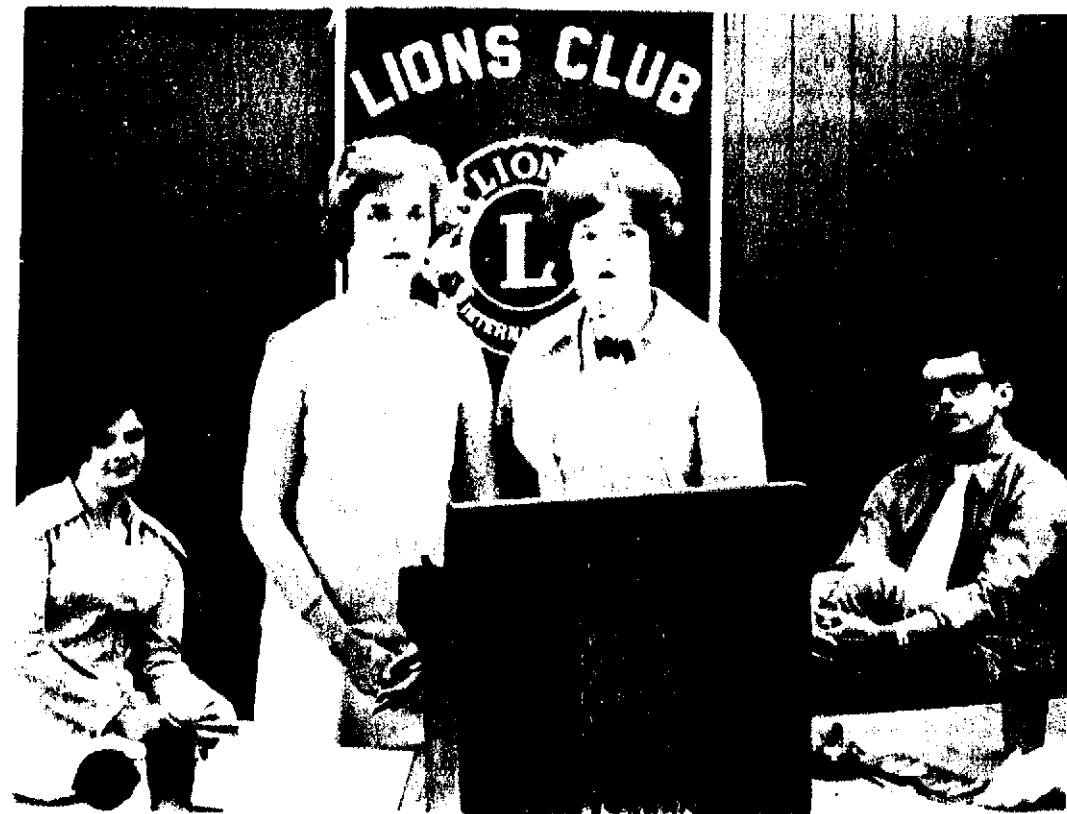

"He whispered in my ear that I would not be hurt. He was supposed to stick a knife between my ribs. He stuck the knife just to prick the skin and said, 'Now don't tell them I didn't kill you.' Then he threw me backwards and covered my body with his," said Fargo.

It was the prisoner's last act. "When it was over," said Fargo, "he was dead."

The executioner assigned to guard Elmer Hueln told him: "I don't have the heart to do it."

Partisanship Laid to Democrats

By WALTER R. MEARS

AP Political Writer
SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Warming up for a campaign year, Republican governors have accused Democrats of fostering unseemly partisanship at the 63rd National Governors Conference.

For their part, the Republicans unanimously endorsed President Nixon's new economic policy, and prepared to defend it today against a proposed Democratic resolution that complains of inequity and advocates restraints on profits along with wages and prices.

Since it would take a three-fourths conference to vote to approve the measure, the GOP governors seemed certain to succeed in blocking it.

"We simply deplore that the Democratic governors seek to use this bipartisan conference as a forum for what we believe is a narrow and partisan approach," said Gov. John A. Love of Colorado.

Love said partisanship was fueled, too, by the featured role of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine at Tuesday night's formal state dinner.

Muskie told the governors the killing of more than 40 convicts and hostages in a four-day uprising at New York's Attica prison "is more stark proof that something is terribly wrong in America ...

"The system has not failed—but some of us have failed the system," the senator told the black-tie banquet, "and both political parties and most recent administrations can claim some share of the blame."

Love questioned the propriety of according Muskie, a leading candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, the conference stage. "This should not be a forum for partisan politics," he said.

Liberty Has Been Liberated

If your order for uncirculated specimens of the Eisenhower dollar was not received by the Philadelphia Mint before the July 1 acceptance date, chances are it has been processed and readied for delivery. Some 53 million order blanks were made available to the public by Mrs. Mary Brooks, director of the Mint, so that everyone could have an opportunity to purchase the maximum allowed by law.

Over 1 1/2 million were received the first day. As orders continued to pour in, Mint officials called on the Internal Revenue Service Centers in Ogden, Utah; Kansas City and Philadelphia for assistance. Deliveries reached 1,876,702,804 Aug. 12.

Proof Eisenhower dollars will be mailed from the U.S. Assay Office in San Francisco following fulfillment of the 130 million uncirculated dollars and 30 million proofs will conclude the "silver era" in the history of U.S. coinage. Cupro-nickel issues will begin to show up at the market place, probably in the spring of 1972.

This reappearance of an almost forgotten denomination has posed the usual question: "Will Eisenhower dollars be hoarded by coin collectors like the Kennedy half-dollar and, if not, will it continue as part of our everyday circulating medium?"

The idea that coin collectors are responsible for the almost total disappearance of 250 million coins of any denomination is absurd. They may retain a nominal number of cabinet specimens, but it's a good bet that fewer than 20 million could be gathered from all coin collectors specializing in half-dollars.

An expert guess would place about 60 per cent of these half-dollars overseas. I know for a fact that European tourists manage to take one to four rolls of Kennedy half-dollars with them when they go abroad and few bring them back. They can be found in Hong Kong, Canada, Mexico, South America, Africa and the Middle East. And Mr. Eisenhower's worldly image being what it was, many of the coins bearing his likeness will find their way to foreign depositories alongside the Hope Star staff. Sam Andrews, a former Hope Lion, has moved back to Hope and is coming back into the Hope Lions Club.

Guest present were Lioness Donna Smith, Lioness Doris Jean Flowers, Mrs. Manuel Hamm, and James Brown of Dardanelle, Arkansas, guest of Lion Claude Byrd.

Marijuana Cuts Out Cigarettes

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Columbia University says it has found in a national survey of youngsters that those who use marijuana are less likely to become cigarette smokers than those who don't.

The university's school of public health said Tuesday its survey covered 1,701 youngsters in the 12-17 age bracket from all sections of the nation.

Of the surveyed adolescents who have used marijuana 10 times or less, 83 per cent are cigarette smokers. Cigarette usage fell to 64 per cent among those who have used marijuana 60 or more times, the school said.

"Apparently, if you smoke pot a lot, who needs cigarettes," said Dr. Eric Josephson of Columbia, who reported on the survey at a conference on student drug use.

According to the survey, 15 per cent of the youngsters had tried marijuana and 3 per cent used it 60 times or more.

More youths in the West, 23 per cent, use marijuana, the survey found. The figure was 20 per cent in the Northeast, 13 per cent in the North Central states and 11 per cent in the South.

"Somewhat surprisingly, our survey did not produce the expected sex differences in mari-those bearing the Kennedy profile.

As for the question regarding continuance of the dollar as part of our pocket change: probably not, at least here in the Midwest and East. We're used to the small stuff. But the casinos in Las Vegas have found one expensive item on their supply list to be replacement of gambling tokens and chips.

To relieve the situation, many casino operators will reinstate the cartwheel as a medium of exchange so long as it does not whittle away at their classic image. When this happens, the dollar will wind up on the low-bet tables, giving way to the plastic and sterling chips.

Getting back to the title line—Liberty Has Been Liberated. The dollar coin was the last of our currency to replace the tired and aged profile of Miss Liberty with the male configuration. The first was the cent dominated for over a century by a female head. Lincoln wrapped that one up in 1909. To be followed in 1913 by the Indian-head nickel. Next came the Washington quarter. The Roosevelt dime. The Franklin half-dollar. Finally, the Eisenhower dollar

McGovern Met Terrorists Unknowingly

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — City officials claimed today Sen. George S. McGovern unknowingly was meeting with a Viet Cong terrorist group when he was endangered by a rock and fire-bomb barrage against a Saigon church. The senator protested to President Nguyen Van Thieu that the claim was a "personal insult."

McGovern said he told Thieu about the allegations at a meeting later in the day and quoted the president as expressing surprise at the police version of the melee at a Roman Catholic church.

He said Thieu promised he would "look into it immediately."

McGovern lodged his protest during a 45-minute meeting with Thieu that came just after Saigon city officials issued statements claiming that McGovern had unknowingly met with Viet Cong cadre at the church.

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker was also present at the meeting with Thieu.

The South Dakota Democrat, an announced presidential aspirant in 1972, said he is confident the persons who attended the church meeting were not Viet Cong, but persons interested in prison reform and allegedly unjust legal procedures.

"I told him (Thieu) I thought it was outrageous that a police chief of this city would imply that a U.S. senator was here meeting with agents of the Viet Cong," McGovern told newsmen. "And that it was ridiculous on the surface that a police chief would make such a charge and does nothing about it."

"If the police chief knew about this he should have moved in."

McGovern was referring to statements by Col. Trang Si Tan, Saigon's police chief, and Col. Do Kien Nhieu, the mayor, that some participants in the meeting that triggered the disturbance Tuesday were members of a Viet Cong-backed "student attack group."

Nhieu named 18 persons, some of whom he said had been responsible for recent fire bombings of American vehicles in Saigon.

"The people we talked to," said McGovern, "were Catholic priests, Buddhist priests, lawyers, doctors, housewives, students. The only thing they had in common was a concern about the attitude of this government toward the way political prisoners are treated and the way the prisons are conducted."

In a communique, the mayor said the meeting was illegal because the group had not obtained a permit required when more than 20 persons gather.

U.S. official sources said the disturbance appeared to have been coincidental with McGovern's presence and those responsible "probably did not even know he was present."

Drug Using GIs Must Be Treated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Drug-addicted servicemen will have to undergo mandatory treatment before they are discharged, an administration spokesman says.

Previously departing servicemen, who are screened by a pre-discharge drug test, were treated on a voluntary basis.

"The Department of Defense has forwarded to all commanders directives advising them that drug-dependent personnel with limited terms of service remaining are not to be given the option of declining transfer by ASMRO (the Armed Services Medical Regulating Organization) to VA (Veterans Administration) facilities," Dr. Jerome H. Jaffe told the Senate Veterans' Affairs subcommittee Tuesday.

"The effect of this directive is that a man identified as drug dependent and who has, for example, two weeks' service remaining will serve those in a VA hospital while receiving treatment," said Jaffe, director of President Nixon's special drug-abuse prevention program.

Jaffe said the mandatory program was started after the voluntary treatment plan fizzled.

Between July 1 and Sept. 10, Jaffe said, 4,440 servicemen showed positive reactions toward opiates, mostly heroin, in urine tests. That's 5.15 per cent of all tested.

But only 23 GIs voluntarily agreed to be transferred to a VA hospital for treatment for their remaining 10 or 15 days in the service, he said.

"These figures made it clear to us, as well as to the Department of Defense and the Veterans Administration, that the system was not working as we had hoped," Jaffe said.

Japs Helping North Vietnam

TOKYO (AP) — The Japan Red Cross Society decided Monday to send about $10,000 worth of medical and other relief supplies to North Vietnam to help flood victims.

North Vietnam was hit by its worst floods in 26 years in late July.

5 Charged With Marijuana

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Five men accused of selling marijuana have been released because a courtroom guard refused to unlock shackles by which they were chained together.

State District Judge James Ellis dismissed their cases before they were arraigned after the guard said they couldn't be freed because only two guards were available to watch them.

The chains prevented them from appearing individually before the bench and talking with their lawyers, Ellis said.

BIG ENEMY (From Page One)

stores apparently had been abandoned by North Vietnamese troops when they pulled back into Laos and across the DMZ recently under heavy raids by U.S. B52 bombers.

Only scant ground action was reported by the South Vietnamese command.

In four scattered skirmishes, the command said, South Vietnamese forces killed 27 enemy and lost four killed.

The U.S. Command reported a dozen more B52 bomber strikes in the northern sector, half of them in the southern part of the DMZ. The bombers dropped 360 tons of explosives on suspected North Vietnamese troop locations, antiaircraft gun sites and storage areas.

One of the objectives of the 10-day old South Vietnamese drive below the DMZ is to destroy enemy supply depots along the Laotian border at outlets of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

The U.S. command announced that two more American Army units, with combined authorized strength of 350 men, had ceased combat operations in preparation for withdrawal from Vietnam.

Little Known About Mononucleosis

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—How can a person contract mononucleosis besides kissing? I'm almost 70 years old and just got out of the hospital from it. I am alone and not the kissing kind. I was told I could have picked it up on a trip from unclean silver, dishes and the like. Is this so?

Dear Reader—It's a shame to have the illness and not have the fun said to go with it. Infectious mononucleosis is more common in young people—and in the spring—which has helped its reputation as the kissing disease, but relax, it does occur under other conditions. About 10 per cent of the cases are in persons from 45 to 65 years old (that doesn't prove it isn't kissing since age has very little to do with that pastime).

It is suspected of being a virus disease, but the virus has not been absolutely identified nor the actual means of transmission defined. It isn't very contagious though, since family members seldom develop it.

The outlook is fine and most people recover—usually in a short time without any residual ill effects. Occasionally a person has a longer siege of it. You may hold some kind of a record though since it is quite rare in your age group. I doubt anyone can say how you got the illness.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Could you tell me the cause and lasting effect of a man having only one testicle? At 15, they became swollen and one
